The Mission of AAUW is to advance equity for women and children through advocacy, education and research. The national organization awards over $3 million per year for fellowships and doctoral grants for women.

Our Loveland branch awards college scholarships to local women to help them break through the educational barriers. Our goal is to raise enough funds to award 4 scholarships this year.

All proceeds from this event will benefit our scholarship fund.

The Authors

Dan Danbom is owner of Danbom & Son Books, a used and antiquarian book business in Denver, and co-owner of Printed Page Bookshop in Denver. Before entering the book business, he was in journalism and corporate communication. He is the author of two books – Becoming Bonnie Brae: The Story of a Denver Neighborhood and I Met Another Dead Man Today.

Dan is a graduate of CSU and Ball State University. He is a native of Denver where he and his wife Barb live with their two daughters, three granddaughters and a son-in-law.

Jacqueline St. Joan is an award-winning poet, memoirist, essayist, writer of fiction and feminist legal scholarship. Her books include My Sisters Made of Light and The Shawl of Midnight. She writes about history and family fictions: the abuse of women and inheritance of racism; the minds of children, teaching and learning, law and justice and literature; South Asia, gardens, birds.

She has a law degree and a Master's in creative writing. A lifelong feminist, she is a mother, grandmother, and a social justice activist with a voice.
